Statement

The Green party is the only political party I've ever had a strong connection with and I find myself now with my life experiences ready to stand up and represent it.

Having not succeeded in running for a council candidate for 2022 I am keen to be involved as best as I can be as this is really the beginning of my involvement of the party other than just being a supporter.

To date I'm an ethical goldsmith, an ambassador for change in my industry. I've been to 3rd world artisanal gold mines and in 2018 ran a prominent campaign around the exploitative areas in the gold and jewellery supply chains. I brought high end retailers to the table to have an honest conversation about sustainable change. Now it is this campaigning and my passion for fairness and equality that I believe will serve me well within the Greens.

I am a Rospa & Neebosh occupational level three qualified health and safety advisor which is very useful for areas such as conducting risk assessments. I am compassionate and understanding with people, a team player and leader when required to be so. I am a strong public speaker and confident in addressing crowds. I have worked as a technician and tutor for the leith school of art, an extra in several adverts and film productions and run two successful businesses in the jewellery trade.

I hope that my passions for fairness in my industry and for the planet, as well as my life skills, will be helpful in any committee roles that I might be considered for.
